Makes Proud Boast That Depart- Will Take Up Later Question of ment Has Always Been Free of Graft.

Before the admiring gaze of thousands of people, practically all of Richmond's 163 policemen went on full dress parade yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the annual inspection and review by Mayor Ainsile and the Board of Pollee Commissioners.

With Motorcycle Policemen Clarke and Samuels some distance ahead, to clear the way, the battallon was led by Chief of Police Werner out of Nineteenth Street, where the inspection took place, into Main Street, thence to Fifth Street, to Franklin, to Adams, to Broad and to the City Hall, which was circled, and the body halted in Capitol Street. From the south side steps of the City Hall, Mayor Ainsile delivered a brief address. He congratulated the Police Department for its particular efficiency and boasted of the fact that Richmond's police force is free from graft. "A finer body of men," the Mayor gaid "could not be found anywhere." A large crowd also heard Mayor Ainsile's remarks, and after they had been dismissed from ranks each officer expressed his opinion that Mayor Ainsile's remarks, and after they had been dismissed from ranks each officer expressed his opinion that Mayor Ainsile's remarks, as great man and a fine public servant.

Proud of the Force.

The inspection, parade and review were successful in every way. Sergent Sowell headed the squad of mounted officers, who followed closely behind Major Werner. The bicyclosquad was in charge of Acting Sergent G. W. Thurman. The patrolmen from all three districts were under command of Captain George W. Epps, of the Second District, and marched perfectly, thanks to his training as drillmaster.

The occasion was enlivened by the brass band, which occupied a position between the bicycle men and the footmen.

Discard Belts.

Much to the delight of all patrolmen, as well as captains and sergeants, the commissioners at their monthly meeting decided to practically discard the belts which were adopted for them more than a year ago. The belts have been the cource of a great deal of complaint by the officers. The board's action satisfies all except the policement has signed for duty in Broad Street. They will be required to wear belts during the daylight hours.

The men objected to wearing the belts on the ground that they were inconvenient in many ways, and added needless weight to their already heavy equipment.

LUNCHEON FOR BAHLKE

Life Underwriters Entertain Him on Eve of His Departure for Baltimore.

At the Business Men's Club yesterday the Richmond Virginia Life Underwriters' Association gave a farewell buncheon to George W. Bahike, who is leaving the city this week for Baltimore.

There was a large and representative gathering of life underwriters. Owing to the absence from the city of President William B. Allen, E. M. Crutchfield, first vice-president, presided, and introduced the speakers, who testified to Mr. Bahike's fine record in Richmond, not only as a life underwriter, but as a citizen and a friend.

Among those speaking were Messrs, N. D.
Sills, W. B. Freeman, J. C. Dobbin, S. B.
Love, T. Garnett Tabb, A. O. Swink, William S. Drewry, W. W. Hardwicke, Austin Brockenbrough and E. M. Crutchfield.

A number of letters were read from members of the association who could not be present, testifying to their appreciation of the service to life insurance and civic affairs by Mr. Bahike during the nine years that he has been in Richmond,
Mr. Bahike responded with much feeling to the testimonials of regard shown.

By resolution a page in the minute book of the association was ordered inscribed with a record of farewell luncheon in honoy of

The world has defined Jesus at the double expense of degrading human nature and of denying the Fatherhood of God. It has painted a beautiful picture of the Christ, but in the background stands a vindictive God, who demands a bloody sacrifice, and a human nature which is willing to shift its load of guilt upon the shoulders of another. So dark is this background that it mars the beauty of the picture.—
